I completely understand , unfortunately bad weather and high seas have been a issue for several years. This has caused shells to get wet and equipment being damaged causing no fire to some product. These are acts we cannot control as an act of God. A big portion of the Marco island budget is the barge at $25,000. Marco Island is welcome to price shop or source another barge as I certainly was surprised at the $5K increase myself. I am are here to help in any way possible.
